OAKSHAW ORACLE

A warm welcome to all visitors who are reading this online version of our worship. This Sunday we have a short worship video based on the theme of the church service.

The hymns and Music for Meditation are played by our Choir Master David Murray. The second hymn is taken from a recording of the choir accompanied by David on the organ.

- 685 - For everyone born, a place at the table
- 167 - Guide me, O Though great Jehovah
- The Music for Meditation is an organ rendition of a traditional Welsh lullaby - 'Suo Gan'.

The Order of Service is for the service in church. It is now good to be back in the church and the minister would encourage you to join us at 11a.m. for our service in church if you are able.

The video is available on the website <http://www.oakshawtrinity.org.uk/music> (Music menu) and on the Facebook page www.facebook.com/oakshawtrinity.

SERMON NOTES

We cannot deny or ignore the pleas and cries of the Ukrainian people in the midst of their unmerited and inhumane attacks by Russia. This is not unlike the world as it was in the time of Jesus with another despotic dictatorship trying to conquer the world.

In some way or another, in either an articulate way or in an unspoken way, all of us at some time have asked, "Does anybody really care?" Then the words of Jesus come to us, "This is my body which is given for you," and we take it in our hands and we feel it, and then somehow or another we know that somebody not only hears us, but really cares about us that much. The mystery of Christ's sacrifice somehow overcomes and outweighs the balance of all human solitude and gives us strength to face the future.

Don't ask how, but when we hear the words and see the cup and drink the wine, we can see, and know, and feel the power that overcame all temptation and sin.

Prayer: In the breaking of bread, in communion with all saints on earth and in heaven may we experience a peace that this world cannot give or take from us as we work and pray for peace on earth...
